

Meet the Author

April 30, 2005 at Tacy's House

Fred Netz Author of Wally the Walleye

For over 32 years, Fred Netz taught second, fourth and fifth grades. According to Fred, those years afforded him the most wonderful "hobby" on earth. He is the first to admit that the students taught him more than he could teach them, with so many wonderful personalities to work with. "Wally" was a good story to tell the students after lunch and he became such a good friend that over the years many students and parents remember him.